

Building Confidence through Work

Jayita suffers from a physical disability that causes her hands to be stiff and tight. When her father passed away, Jayita needed to find work to support her family's finances. She was offered a job at MKS in cleaning and finishing leather products. At first the work was very intimidating and difficult, but over time her confidence and skill levels have grown and her hands have even become more functional. She now motivates her coworkers to develop their confidence as well. Jayita is now the decision-maker and sole earner for her family.
