

A Future Master

These magnificent eggs were made using a technique called “quilling” or paper filigree, where paper is rolled and looped to create colorful, intricate designs. Le Thi Yen of Mai Handicrafts loves the creativity involved with quilling and wants to expand her knowledge to create designs that are even more complex. She hopes to master quilling and continue this work into the future.