Haiti

Recycled oil drums become vibrant hand-painted décor pieces for your home or garden.

Good for them. Good for the planet.

Our artisan partners are some of the most resourceful people on the planet.

From the rice paddies of Southeast Asia to the rainforests of South America, these skilled handcrafters earn income with little more than the world around them. They turn recycled and sustainable materials into usable works of art.

India

Recycled sari is hand stitched with kantha embroidery to create soft & colorful kitchen textiles.

Philippines

Fast growing woods and grasses turn into skillfully built natural birdhouses and feeders.

Uganda

Natural raffia and banana fiber is dyed and wrapped by hand into masterfully woven baskets & trays.

Did you know?

SERRV reuses 40,000 pounds of cardboard cartons every year.

We fondly named it our Green Machine in 2017, and ever since, our cardboard shredder has been turning shipping cartons from our global partners into packing paper for outbound packages to customers.

We're also cutting our carbon footprint by shipping products by sea instead of air as often as possible, and working with artisans to produce eco-friendly items for your home.
